

Call for papers: Future of Dentistry Award @Dentaprimе 2022

(Varna, 27.08.2021) The Future of Dentistry Award @Dentaprimе 2022 is announced. Now in its 6th year, the award is sponsored by Dentaprimе Dental Clinics (Varna/London). Dentaprimе has been promoting scientific research for many years and has established the Future of Dentistry Award for this purpose.

The Future of Dentistry Award is rewarded with 3,000 euros.

The award is given for scientific papers completed in the field of implantology, implant prosthetics and dental stem cell research. Graduates of European universities are eligible to participate. The paper may be written by one author or a group of authors.

To apply, please send us your paper including a maximum five-page abstract and a curriculum vitae. Papers must be written in German or English. Acceptable formats are unpublished and published papers. A publication must not date back more than two years.

You can send your paper in digital form to award@dentaprimе.com, or by post to the following address:

Dentaprimе
attn. Alexander Krings
St. 27, No. 1
9006 Varna
Bulgarien

The deadline is 31 March 2022.

An independent jury will judge the papers.

The award ceremony will take place on Saturday, 28 May 2022 in Varna, on the Bulgarian Black Sea coast. The award winner and his or her companion will be invited to this event (including flight and hotel).

Further information on the research award as well as on previous award winners and their work is available at <https://www.dentaprimе.com/future-of-dentistry-award>.